Jesus Washes His Friends' Feet

(John 13:1-20)

"For I can do everything through Christ, who gives me strength."
(Philippians 4:13)

Jesus shows us how to live... and lead others.

Wouldn't it be great to be The Leader for once? Instead of the teacher telling your class what to do, you could give the assignments. Instead of tagging along after a parent at the grocery store, you could head straight for the aisles filled with stuff you want.

When you're the leader, you get to call the shots. You set a direction and people have to line up and follow you there, right?

Not really. Not if you lead like Jesus.

When you lead like Jesus led, you don't boss people around; you serve them. You listen to them, care about them, and help them get where you—and they—need to go. You lead by example.

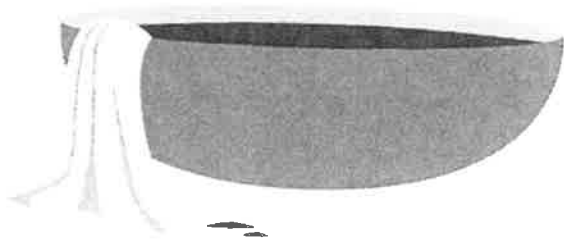

Jesus is our leader and example. Follow him, and he'll show you how to live—and lead!

Who's someone you like following? What makes that person a good leader?

Try This @ Home

Have everyone in your family sit in chairs. Using a basin of water and towel, wash their feet. How comfortable are people with you doing this? How do you feel about doing it?
