

The Good Samaritan (Luke 10:25-37)

“For I can do everything through Christ, who gives me strength.”
(Philippians 4:13)

Jesus shows us how to live... and love others.

Do you feel most loved when people tell you they love you or when they show you they love you?

Let's say you're at school and you forgot your lunch money. One friend says he loves you as he gulps down a slice of pepperoni pizza and walks away. Another friend says she loves you as she shares half her lunch with you.

It's good when people say they love you. But it's great when people say the words and also do something about it.

Jesus loves you that great way. He let his love lead him to the cross. He loves you enough to stick around...no matter what.

And when you're friends with Jesus, he'll show you how to love others, too. Not just some people or people who love you back; with Jesus' help, you can show love to everyone.

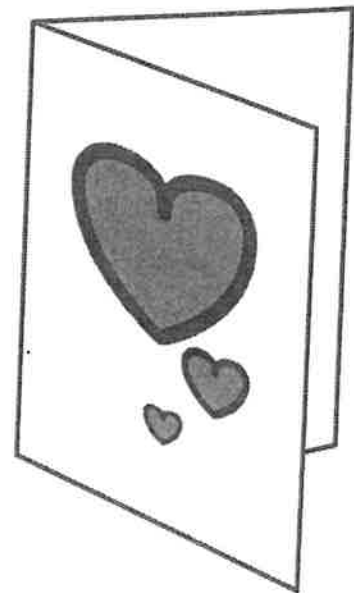

So take a look around you. Who can you show love to today?

Who—besides Jesus—loves you? What has that person done to show you love?

Think about the people you live with. What could you do to show love to each person? Make a list and then do what's on the list over the next few days. When they ask what you're up to, tell them about Jesus' love!
